

SPOTLIGHT ON LOCAL BUSINESS

The “Don’t Fret Pet!” difference

When local resident, Tony Holmans and his wife, were looking to own a small business, ‘Don’t Fret Pet!’ was the perfect choice.

Proud husband and father of three, Tony has lived in the Centenary suburbs for the last ten years, enjoying the accessibility of the parks and walking their dogs along the Brisbane river.

“Fighting the early morning traffic and commute to work was not hard to give up and the added bonus of providing a friendly home for dogs whose owners are going off on holiday, is the icing on the cake,” said Tony.

‘Don’t Fret Pet!’ is a service which provides a caring environment while you are away enjoying a much deserved break, relaxing in the knowledge that your dog is in the home of a dog-lover. Meeting your Minder in advance for total peace of mind, ensures both you and your canine family member enjoy the holiday. Reminders of home are important to your dog, so little things like having the same food, bed and some favourite toys make for a happy pooch and ensures there are no upset tummies.

Tony will match your dog with a Minder in your local area for ease of drop off and pick up in the sometimes hectic time prior to leaving for holidays, with Minders also endeavouring to be flexible with the drop off and pick up times.

As only one dog, or two if they are from the same family, is booked in with a Minder at any one time, you can be assured your dog will be treated like a member of the family, with indoor dogs being welcomed inside the Minder’s home.

“Combining our love of dogs with work seemed like the perfect fit,” said Tony. “We have had two Old English Sheep dogs, a Golden Retriever, and at present we have an eight year old Shih-tzu X Maltese and a six year old Cavalier King Charles. We understand how much people love their dogs and want the best care possible for them.”

‘Don’t Fret Pet!’ are also keen to hear from anyone interested in becoming a Minder. With everything provided by the dog owner, all you need to provide is a secure environment and lots of TLC.
